Which disruptive technology do you believe holds the most potential for the Aerospace and Defense industry?

"I liked how the show was small enough to provide enough opportunities to have meaningful conversations with other attendees. I also found that the right people were at the conference. It was great to discuss challenges around digital transformation with others who 'get it.'"

Leslie McKay
Senior Manager,
Digital Products,
SAE International

Testimonials from our Attendees

"Undoubtedly, digital transformation is an imperative for the future of the supply chain. The conference highlighted the necessity for a holistic approach to address these challenges in the journey toward a digitized and streamlined future for the aviation industry's supply chain."

Carol Ceard

Trade Commissioner,
Government of Quebec

"Diverse set of high quality attendees driving substantive discussions. We're particularly focused on manufacturers and MROs, so this was the right mix for us."

Matthew Delaney

Head of Enterprise Solutions,
Covalent

"The conference was great way to share and exchange ideas, also learn new trends in the industry around the technology, it also gave a platform to think differently and also learnt that everyone is struggling with the same problems. It was great conference!"

Akshat Somashekar

Sr Product Owner,
Southwest Airlines

"I enjoyed the broad representation from the aerospace ecosystem - Operators, OEMs, MROs, Technology vendors, and Consultants - that presented a well rounded and thoughtful state of the industry's digital transformation."

Vivek Saxena

CEO,
FactoryTwin
